U.S. bombers hammer DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52s and Marine fighter-bombers teamed up Wednesday pounding enemy positions in the demilitarized zone, where growing North Vietnamese strength poses a threat in the far north.

Waves of the eight-engine Stratofortresses twice attacked suspected North Vietnamese artillery positions, troop concentrations, truck parks and supply areas in the zone between the Vietnams.

Then Marine planes raked enemy positions in the zone. Pilots reported they touched off nine explosions, indicating hits on ammunition or fuel dumps.

The zone not only provides the North Vietnamese with a base close to Marine positions just to the south, but it also is an infiltration route into South Vietnam.

The North Vietnamese have shown increasing aggressiveness in the far north in the past week. They attacked Marine bases below the zone Sunday after a week of heavy fighting south of Da Nang, about 100 miles southeast of the border.

Tuesday and Wednesday enemy attacks concentrated around the provincial capital of Quang Tri, 16 miles south of the zone, and around Hue, 25 miles south-east of Quang Tri.

U.S. Marine helicopter gunships were called in and hammered the enemy. After the battle, the South Vietnamese reported counting 78 North Vietnamese dead. Their own casualties were reported light.

Columbia students will be expelled

NEW YORK (AP) — President Grayson Kirk of Columbia University said Wednesday that there is "no likelihood" of amnesty for rebellious students, and that he is prepared to discipline, suspend or expel "any number."

Kirk's statement came at a news conference after the second early morning campus police raid in a month left 56 more persons injured, including 16 policemen.

A student strike coordinating committee scheduled a rally to seek citywide support for the rebellious students, whose month-long protest has resulted in 398 arrests and more than 200 injuries.

Kirk, 64, an expert in political science and one-time diplomat, rejected the students' most pressing demand—amnesty.

"There's no likelihood of granting amnesty," he said. "I think it is important for me to state if disciplinary probation, suspension or even permanent expulsion must be dealt out to any number of students, this action will be taken," he added.

He spoke in a background of new charges and denials of police brutality at the 24-year-old Ivy League university, which has about 25,000 students.

Recessed until Monday

North Vietnam hints peace talks may fail

PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam Wednesday night recessed their preliminary peace talks until Monday after the Hanoi delegation for the first time suggested the possibility that these discussions might fail.

In calm tones but with acid words the two delegations once again declined to budge from stated positions. The leader of the Hanoi delegation, Xuan Thuy, asserted: "In the event these official conversations do not conclude with results, the American side must bear the full and entire responsibility."

A U.S. delegation spokesman said he did not take Thuy's statement as an implied threat to break off the talks.

"It is a statement of position, preparing the way for the position to take if, for any reason, the talks did fail," said William J. Jordan, the American spokesman. "If the talks should fail the people of the world will make their own judgment."

But the way the U.S. spokesman described the session, he left the impression the Americans felt they were sparring with wraiths. The North Vietnamese refuse to admit they have any troops in South Vietnam, although U.S. intelligence reports from Vietnam say Hanoi has virtually stripped its own territory and has the equivalent of 12 divisions in the South.

"It's hard to see how we can move on toward finding a peaceful settlement of a war when we are dealing with someone who won't even admit he is there," Jordan said.

Time after time U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, the chief U.S. negotiator, challenged the North Vietnamese delegation to avoid public statements and mutual recriminations and to get down to businesslike talks in private. His efforts were rebuffed. But there is no thought of the Americans giving up in despair. Asked if the Americans had thought of breaking up the conference, Jordan quickly retorted: "Certainly not."

Harriman tried again to take the conference out of what he calls the realm of propaganda in which, he said, the Hanoi delegation issues statements for the sake of the impact on world opinion. He said some people were getting "disgusted" with North Vietnamese allegations which had no basis in fact.

But immediately after the session at the French international conference center, the North Vietnamese spokesman began reading the text of Thuy's remarks in the meeting. Then the Americans likewise released information of what had taken place.

Hanoi continued to insist that nothing could be accomplished until the United States decided to stop all bombing and acts of war against North Vietnam. If there was a hint after the previous meeting that the talks might move on to other matters, that was dispelled by an American statement that the possibility of discussing a political settlement in South Vietnam did not even come up.

"We are prepared," Harriman told the North Vietnamese, "to discuss the cessation of bombing as we have said repeatedly."

Pompidou rides out assault

PARIS (AP) — Premier Georges Pompidou successfully rode out Wednesday night attempts in the National Assembly to overthrow his government, but was immediately faced with the threat of renewed student upheavals.

A motion of censure over the government's handling of student riots and the spreading strike wave which has idled eight million workers needed 244 votes for passage. It won the support of 233 deputies and thus failed by 11 votes.

Passage of the motion would have forced the resignation of Pompidou and his cabinet and compounded politically an academic and industrial crisis that has all but paralyzed France and jolted the 10-year-old regime of President Charles de Gaulle.

While the vote was being counted in the assembly, about 5,000 students gathered a mile away on the Boulevard St. Michel to protest the government's ban on the return to France of student leader Daniel Cohn-Bendit, a red-haired German enrolled at suburban Nanterre University.

Cohn-Bendit, 23, who was visiting Amsterdam for talks with Dutch students, smiled when he heard of the ban and declared: "I can always slip back into France."

The last previous motion of censure against the government mustered 236 votes, only eight short of the necessary 244. It was held April 25 on the regime's information policies.

In the showdown on the current unrest, 73 Communists, 121 members of the Federation of the Democratic and Socialist Left, 34 centrists, 4 independents and Edgar Pisani, President de Gaulle's former agriculture minister, all voted to censure Pompidou's government.

The premier beat down the motion by announcing his readiness to discuss the demands of the striking workers. Trade union leaders came back almost immediately with word they were ready for "real negotiations."

But the leaders of the three major trade union federations presented a sweeping list of demands that would add millions of dollars to the nation's wage costs just when French industry was girding for head-on unfettered competition with its five partners in the European Common Market.

Pompidou had appealed to the deputies to back De Gaulle and the government in carrying out needed reforms in a climate of order, not anarchy.

But the threat from the university students and the striking workers remained to be resolved.

Georges Seguy, secretary-general of the Communist-backed General Confederation of Labor, indicated the scope of the threat when he told a news conference the paralyzing strike wave will continue to spread "until the workers have the certainty and guarantee that their demands will be met."

These demands include an increase in the minimum wage to 600 francs ($120) a month. The minimum in the Paris region, higher than elsewhere in France, is at present less than 400 francs ($80).

Other demands confronting the government: — Unchecked employment and unemployment benefits.

Poor People send 200 home, 400 others welcomed aboard

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ranks of the poor at Resurrection City, U.S.A., fluctuated rapidly Wednesday as officials of the Poor People's Campaign banished 200 demonstrators homeward and welcomed 400 new ones.

The departing group was made up largely of militant young men from Chicago, Detroit and other Midwestern cities who were expelled for disciplinary reasons.

The Rev. James Bevel, a director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, sponsoring the campaign, said the youths had been unable to get along with the others in the camp, especially the whites.

"They went around and beat up on our white people," said Bevel. "They interfered with the workers and were hostile to the press. We had to get them out."

The arrivals and departures left the shantytown headquarters of the campaign near its planned capacity of 3,000, but Bevel and other officials were unable to say precisely how many were on hand.

A distinguished nonresident showed up to lend a hand on the garbage detail — Negro actor Sidney Poitier, who said he was there "to re-establish roots among the people who gave me birth."

The Academy Award-winning actor attracted little attention from the impoverished residents of the camp as he went about his duties with a sanitation crew.

The charge Bevel leveled at the 200 marchers who were kicked out—that they "couldn't develop any internal cohesion"—could not be made about the PARAMOUNT, Calif. (AP) — A large helicopter with 23 persons aboard crashed late Wednesday into a cow pasture off a busy intersection near Los Angeles, and authorities said no one survived.

The single-rotor Sikorsky craft "exploded in the air and disintegrated," a witness said.

It was headed for Los Angeles International Airport from Disneyland, amusement park 27 miles from downtown Los Angeles. The 32-mile flight, one of 30 daily was half completed.

Congress passes consumer's bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress sent to President Johnson Wednesday a far-reaching bill requiring that buyers and borrowers be told the true cost of credit on consumer transactions totaling $100 billion a year.

The Senate completed congressional action on the long-debated measure by voice vote after a brief debate. The House acted several hours earlier, also by voice vote.

Sponsors said they are delighted with the unanimous approval of the bill, officially titled the Consumer Credit Protection Act. It is the outcome of seven years of controversy in Congress over the "truth in lending" issue.

Johnson praised the work of the Senate-House conferees when they reached agreement on the measure a week ago, and is certain to sign it into law.

The measure applies to consumer-type loans and purchases, not to commercial lending practices among banks and businesses.

Basically, the measure requires that those who lend money or sell on credit must tell the consumer the total finance charge in terms of an annual rate. Thus a 1.5 per cent a month charge for a revolving credit account would also have to be stated as 18 per cent a year.

A primary election of major party candidates for the presidency of the United States will be held in mock elections today at Pocono Central Catholic High School.

Successful candidates from each party will then square off in Friday's general election by the junior and senior classes at the high school.

The elections cap a "Campaign '68" program at the high school, during which students speaking on behalf of each candidate, have argued and discussed the issues of the day, including the war in Vietnam, the draft, poverty, racial strife, and violence in the streets.

With the entire student body registered, Democrats show a sizable 3-1 edge going into the polls.

The campaign has been highlighted by rallies for each candidate, with the following students speaking in behalf of their candidates:

Norbert Demars, Ronald Reagan; Alfred DuWallby, Nelson Rockefeller; John Stets, Robert Kennedy; Coren O'Neil, Richard Nixon; Richard Flaville, Eugene McCarthy, and Ned Dishman, Hubert Humphrey.

Delays organ damage

Instrument prolongs life of heart

PITTSBURGH (AP) — When a human heart stops beating, damage to organs begins almost immediately and becomes progressively worse.

The brain, deprived of the flow of blood, suffers irreversible damage within three to five minutes. The kidney survives about 15 minutes before turning into a useless mass of tissue. The liver—possibly a half hour.

To a surgeon who wants to transplant an organ from a dead person to a living patient, the moments after death are critical.

Now a medical team from the University of Pennsylvania has developed a heart resuscitation and blood circulation instrument that may be able to give doctors those precious, extra minutes, even hours.

The instrument was described Wednesday at a meeting of the Instrument Society of America by Dr. Arthur E. Baue, who along with Dr. George L. Anstadt and other researchers developed the device.

Applied directly to the heart after the chest is opened, it has been used so far only in a handful of cases to revive the natural heart beat in patients who suffered cardiac arrest and after other, more conventional means, such as external heart massage, had failed.

But Baue foresees the time when it can be used to maintain circulation in a clinically "dead" person and thus preserve organs longer for transplanting.

The instrument, Baue says, has several advantages over hand massage. The device can keep the heart beating for several hours. In contrast, hand massage bruises the heart muscle and leaves it flabby after an hour or so. Furthermore, Baue says, the instrument provides better blood pressure and blood flow than hand massage. All this, of course, means much to a doctor trying to restore the spark of life to a patient or prepare another patient for transplant surgery.

The relatively simple instrument, Baue believes, will be within reach of the budgets of even small hospitals. In simple terms, it consists of pumps connected by hoses to a part made

Hershey school admits Negroes

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Milton Hershey School, which has operated as a private institution for poor white male orphans since 1910, decided Wednesday to admit Negroes, the chairman of its Board of Managers reported.

James E. Bobb, the chairman, would not relate the decision to this week's U. S. Supreme Court ruling that all-white Girard College in Philadelphia, also a private institution, must admit Negroes.

Bobb said the decision was made at a special board meeting, and it was subject to concurrence of Atty. Gen. William C. Sennett. Sennett was out of town.

"The concurrence of the attorney general is being requested since he is exclusive representative of the public in matters affecting charitable trusts, and is also the chief law enforcement officer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania," Bobb said.

Bobb said the school, which has an enrollment of 1,500 boys, operates under a 1909 deed of trust set up by Milton S. Hershey founder of the worldwide Hershey Chocolate organization. The deed specified that the institution admit poor white male orphan boys, most of whom are from Pennsylvania. Bobb said.

Bobb said the students range in age from 4 to 18, and may take courses that prepare them for a vocation or college. Run by Hershey Estates, the school is located on 10,000 acres of land in this small community that is headquarters for the Hershey Foods Corp.

Boys are admitted to Milton Hershey throughout the year, Bobb said, adding that normal processing could take from six to 10 weeks.

He said he did not know how many — if any — Negroes currently have entrance applications on file at the school.

Kresge stock splits 3-1

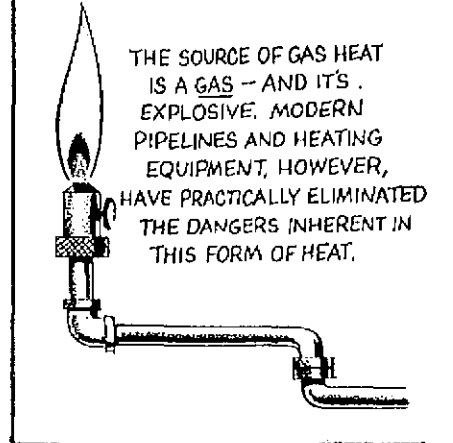

DETROIT (AP) — Shareholders of S. S. Kresge Co. Wednesday approved a 3-for-1 stock split, effective at the close of business June 3, and H. G. Cunningham, chairman and president, reported record earnings for the fiscal quarter ended April 30.

Kresge stock closed at $90.75 a share Tuesday on the New York Stock Exchange. The company operates variety stores and K-Mart department stores in the United States and Canada. Directors approved a quarterly dividend of 25.5 cents per share, payable June 14 to stockholders of record June 3. This would be equal to 8.5 cents after the split.

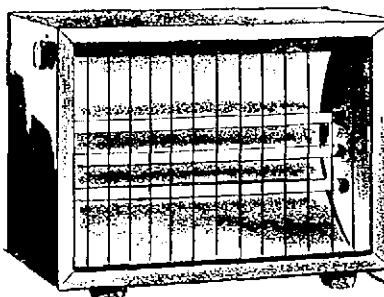

HOW SAFE IS OIL HEAT?

IT'S SO SAFE YOU COULD DROP A MATCH INTO A GLASS OF HEATING OIL AND THE OIL WOULD EXTINGUISH THE FLAME. HEAT IS CREATED IN THE BURNER UNIT—WHEN THE OIL IS VAPORIZED.

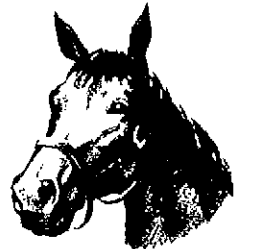

THE SOURCE OF GAS HEAT IS A GAS — AND IT'S EXPLOSIVE. MODERN PIPELINES AND HEATING EQUIPMENT, HOWEVER, HAVE PRACTICALLY ELIMINATED THE DANGERS INHERENT IN THIS FORM OF HEAT.

ELECTRIC HOME HEATING REQUIRES HIGH-RESISTANCE ELECTRICAL COILS TO GENERATE HEAT. WHERE WALL-BOARD COILS ARE USED, THE ELECTRIC UTILITY SUGGESTS THE SAME SAFEGUARDS YOU WOULD USE WITH THE ELECTRIC PLUG-IN TYPE OF HEATER.

THUS, ALL MODERN HEATING SYSTEMS ARE INHERENTLY SAFE AS LONG AS THEY ARE HANDLED WITH GOOD "HORSE SENSE."

Pike reassessment necessary

A demand by three school districts that the Pike County Commissioners should initiate a reassessment of the county and comply with current assessment laws is not only right, but vital.

Operating schools in this modern day and age is big business and big business takes even bigger amounts of money on which to operate.

The three school districts seeking action by the commissioners are East Stroudsburg, Delaware Valley and Wallenpaupack and they ask that the action be well under way by August 1 of this year.

In fact, Delaware Valley and East Stroudsburg both feel that the case should be taken to court if the commissioners decide not to follow through with the demands.

The need for money in modern school systems may be seen in the fact that at the same time the joint resolution session was being held in Milford, East Stroudsburg was adopting its largest budget in history, a staggering $2,077,908 figure.

The three systems, which all draw student enrollment from Pike County, claim that a reassessment of the area is necessary so that they receive their needed finance from an expanded tax dollar.

As of now, Pike County's assessment ranges from 35 per cent to two per cent of the market value. Thus, thousands of dollars in tax monies are lost to the institutions of higher learning each year.

The three school districts are seeking a uniform reassessment throughout the county, in addition to tax maps, property record cards and a property owners index, all required by the Assessment Law of 1957.

It is unfair to ask any school to operate without proper financial assistance, especially when the needed finances could be made available.

Actually, it is impossible for a school to dispense proper education without finances to cover the ever-increasing cost of operation.

Reassessment is the answer to the problem.

House approves funds

The up-and-down Tocks Island-Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area situation is up again—at least at last report.

The upward trend came on the wings of a 364-14 vote by the House of Representatives which approved a $1.4 billion interior appropriations bill, which in turn contained a $4,000,000 appropriation for the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area.

Now the legislation moves over to the Senate, which has been tougher on Tocks Island appropriations than has the House in recent years.

But, the situation has taken on a much more optimistic appearance than it did last week, when the local construction project was hit by an Interior Appropriations Subcommittee decision to slash finances by $143,000,000 in the interior appropriations legislation.

The funds approved for the DWGNRA are earmarked for land acquisition. Later this week the House will consider legislation to supplement the land and water conservation fund, which will be used to advance acquisition of land for parks, with revenues from oil and gas leases on the outer continental shelf.

Land acquisition has long been a sore point in Monroe and Pike counties. Charges and counter charges have been heard about this phase of the gigantic recreational area construction. Many times the remarks have become more than calm words.

However, the added funds, if approved by the Senate, will greatly ease the project for the Corps of Engineers and certainly should speed the realization of the Tocks Island Dam and the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area.

Humphrey out in front

WASHINGTON — It is almost inevitable that the Democratic Presidential nominee will be largely determined by the strength and popularity of President Johnson by convention time.

This is because Vice President Humphrey and Sen. Robert Kennedy are seeking the nomination in such contradictory ways.

They are developing sharp differences of substance and appeal and nearly every aspect of Johnson's record becomes a factor of contention between them.

Kennedy is campaigning as a nearly all-out critic of the Johnson administration.

Humphrey is campaigning as a nearly all-out supporter of the Johnson administration.

Kennedy argues there is little the Administration has done right and a "new course" is needed.

Humphrey argues the Administration has been coping creatively with the nation's major problems, and that it is a performance to be built upon, not spurned.

Kennedy is asking the Democratic party to repudiate a Democratic President by nominating him.

Humphrey is asking the Democratic party to nominate him as the best means of endorsing the record of the Johnson administration and of going forward.

Clearly each is taking a political risk.

Two risks

If the Paris peace talks, however slowly and painfully they might move, don't crumble and if the Johnson domestic performance appears good, Kennedy's risk is that the Democratic convention won't want to pick a candidate so hostile to the president.

Kennedy has an additional risk. Most politicians are aware that if the voters really think it's time for a change, they are far more likely to seek a complete change by voting for the opposition party.

Thus the Democrats might feel that by nominating a Democratic critic of the Johnson administration-Kennedy running as a time-for-a-change candidate — they would be helping Nixon or Rockefeller more than themselves.

The Humphrey risk — and it is not a slight one — is this: if the Paris talks break down or if fighting in Vietnam becomes continuously heavier and if there is a new wave of violence and rioting at home between now and the convention — all of which are possible — the president is bound to get the blame and the Johnson administration could become so unpopular that Humphrey's closeness to it would make his nomination unlikely.

No matter how much he tried, no matter how validly he could show that he was his own man with his own creative legislative record and ideas, the Democrats in desperation would be tempted to turn away from Humphrey to avoid the Johnson stigma.

All of this is why the President's standing on the eve of the convention may do more than anything else to shape its decision.

As between them here is how things stand:

ADD TO STRENGTH

Kennedy's Indiana and Nebraska victories add significantly to his strength. He will probably be helped in Oregon. But he is not yet moving at a pace to overtake Humphrey and it now looks as though the hurdles in the way of a Kennedy nomination will be very hard to surmount.

In the past 10 days there have been delegate conventions in seven states — Wyoming, Delaware, Hawaii, Alaska, Arizona, Nevada, and Maryland. Humphrey emerged as the overwhelming favorite in all of them. He won 90 percent of the delegates — 165 out of a possible 182.

Humphrey not only has more support among Democratic delegates, but also more support among Democratic voters who prefer him, according to the latest Gallup Poll, by 40 to 31 percent.

Present strength aside, events beyond their control will more likely determine whether it is Humphrey or Kennedy.

'Surtax' sure cure

WASHINGTON — A bunch of us peasants were lounging around the village square the other day — just joshing one another and teasing the town fool — when a brightly painted wagon rolled into view and stopped over by the band shell.

The man who had been driving the wagon got up on the back of it and began beating a drum. He was a tall man, wearing rimless glasses and he talked with a Texas accent. As the bumpkins gathered around, he began a chant.

"Step right up, folks, and listen to me," he said, "and I'll tell y'all about the grandest, jim-dandy, sure-fire cure-all you ever did see. Yes, indeed, neighbors, this is it. The elixir you've been waiting for, the thing that'll cure all your ills and then some.

Brewed by experts

"Now, I hold it here in my hand and you can clearly see the label. It is called 'Surtax,' and, my right hand to God, it was put together by experts. It will cure you of economic depression, it will rid you of that tight-money feeling and it will give you the strength to fight poverty, crime and your enemies both foreign and domestic at the same time.

"Now, you might think a thing like this would cost you 100 percent of your wages for the rest of your life, but it doesn't. You might think it would cost you at least three or four times the taxes you pay now. But it doesn't. No, my friends, when I tell you what this will cost — the thinnest amount imaginable — you will scream, shout and jump for joy!

"Will it cost you 50 percent more in taxes? No. Or 40, 30 or 20 percent? No, no, no. This amazing, astounding cure for every single one of the many terrible ailments you have, costs but the infinitesimal sum of only 10 percent more on taxes you now pay! Can you put a price on your economic health, folks? Of course not. So step right up and take advantage of this once-in-a-lifetime offer."

A man in the back of the crowd hurried forward, thrusting his 10 percent tax increase in front of him, and yelled, "I'll take some,

I'll take some, and may the Lord bless you, sir, for coming to our rescue."

"There, look at that, my fellow Americans," the tall man said. "There's a wise man. Here you are, Hubert, I mean, stranger, and thank you. Who's next?"

I asked the tall man a question: "Aren't you the same fellow who was through town a few years back telling us that elixirs called 'Deficit Spending' and 'Tax Decrease' were the cure-alls for everything? Huh, mister, huh?"

"Go away, son, you bother me."

The "Poor People" have run into a money problem at their "Resurrection City" here. Well, if they didn't have a money problem, they wouldn't be poor, would they?

At this writing Rev. Abernathy has yet to spend one night in the huts his followers have erected here. He stays in the comfort of a downtown motel.

"Resurrection City" has a mixed population: 2,500 poor people and 3,000 reporters.

Maybe our negotiators in Paris could get somewhere if they followed the fashion and the Edsel Tower.

The Smithsonian Air Museum should move right away to get an F-111. Soon, there may not be any left.

New troubles in park

Paul Scott

WASHINGTON — The Johnson Administration's use of a double standard in granting permits for private use of public parks in the nation's capital is creating an explosive religious-political controversy.

Baptist church leaders, including a number of Negroes, are planning to challenge the refusal of the Interior Department to allow them to stage a public march and rally on the mall during their Continental Congress of the Crusade of America, Oct. 10 to 13.

The little noticed rejection came shortly before the White House gave the green light for the "Poor People's" Army to set up a camp for 3,000 of its followers on the mall between the Washington and Lincoln monuments.

At least 10,000 marchers, representing an estimated 24 million Baptists in the United States, Canada, and Latin America, were planning to hold the colorful event as the highlight of their religious crusade.

According to Crusade leaders here, the church groups were notified of the unexpected turn-down by Monte E. Fitch, superintendent of central national capital parks, National Park Service, Department of the Interior.

Significantly, Fitch was the authorizing agent that signed the "Poor People's" permit after it was approved at the White House. The latter permit was filed weeks after the Baptists had submitted their request. Since each group planned to use different areas of the mall, there was no direct conflict.

Fitch explained the rejection in a letter to the Baptist leaders on the grounds that "because of civil strife that is taking place in Washington, we are not making any commitments or issuing permits for large gatherings in our public parks."

New challenge

In revealing the mounting protest to the government's arbitrary action from Baptist groups around the country, Crusade leaders indicated the issue was still open.

A second request to stage a march on the mall from the Capitol to the Washington Monument, they say, will be submitted to the Interior Department next month. The new application will cite the granting of the "Poor People's" permit as evidence the Baptists' request should be approved.

They plan also to discuss the permit with congressional leaders, including Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., and enlist their support.

"It would be a gross inequity to allow militant demonstrators to use government parks as a base from which to pressure and disrupt Congress," one Crusade leader pointed out, "and at the same time refuse a peaceful church group the right to use similar facilities to express their faith and love for Christ."

Planners of the Crusade, headed by William J. Cumbie, executive director of the Washington Area Committee, are going ahead with their project to find private housing for the 4,000 delegates.

In addition to the public demonstration on the mall, Crusade plans call for a series of conferences at a downtown hotel based on the theme: "Christ, the Only Hope."

Security pledged

After a series of meetings with local law enforcement authorities, Cumbie has sent assurances to Baptist leaders throughout the country that it will be safe to come to Washington and to bring their families and friends.

These church leaders are also being asked to write their congressmen to intervene with President Johnson to see that those coming to Washington are permitted to publicly demonstrate their faith in Christ with a march and rally on the mall.

The second request for a permit, Crusade leaders say, will pose the question of whether the mall is open to all groups — both political and religious.

If there is discrimination, they want the issue put formally before Congress and all presidential hopefuls pressed to take a stand.

Taking command

President Johnson and members of his Cabinet are privately discussing how the bivouacked "Poor People's" Army can be used to put pressure on Congress to support expansion of his Great Society programs.

This subject came up during a White House meeting on the six billion-dollar spending cut Senate-House tax conferees have tied to the 10 per cent tax surcharge proposal.

During the meeting Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, who originally recommended permitting the "Poor People's" Army to build a shanty town on the mall, and HEW Secretary Wilbur Cohen, proposed enlisting the help of Dr. Ralph Abernathy and his followers.

They suggested giving demonstrators a list of administration proposals to ask from Congress in exchange for public statements by government officials supporting their campaign.

While the president said he liked the idea, he instructed all cabinet members to submit their proposals to the White House for approval before he made final decision.

The president also told cabinet members to respond as positively as they could to the demands of the "Poor People's" leaders.

As a starter, he ordered comparison of all demands with present administration programs to decide:

"1. Would it be an improvement over existing practices?

"2. Could it be done administratively?

"3. Is congressional action possible this year?"

After these questions are answered in memorandums to the White House, the president indicated joint strategy on how to proceed with congress could be worked out with Dr. Abernathy, leader of the campaign.

Letters to THE EDITOR

Dislikes Kennedy's campaign

Editor, The Record

Senator Robert Kennedy has very successfully hoodwinked a sizeable number of Americans into believing that the cause which Senator Eugene McCarthy has spearheaded is the same as his own, and that Kennedy's superior strength and wealth entitles him to the single leadership of both groups.

Eugene McCarthy stepped forward in response to his own need and the need of many other Americans to assert some popular control over the affairs of the government. The furious frustration felt by the people at their inability to dent the ears of the entrenched interests in Washington threatened to drive them mad.

Robert Kennedy, a curiously empty man since his brother's murder, and who has filled the vacancy within himself with a vengeful hatred of Lyndon Johnson, mistook the call of the people for a voice in the government as a call to destroy Lyndon Johnson. Thus, by fuzzing the issue, by making it appear as if both causes were one and the same, Robert Kennedy was able to shove Eugene McCarthy aside and crown himself king of all the revolutionary forces.

The Kennedy money, glamor, and vastly powerful political machine, though potent, was not sufficient for Robert Kennedy's purpose. It was further necessary for him to slay the memory of the late President John Kennedy and to pull the pelt of that memory about himself. The people's love of John Kennedy and their belief in his ideals kept them from recognizing that they had been deceived.

Robert Kennedy used Eugene McCarthy to breach the dyke. He used the anguish of the American people to tear at Lyndon Johnson. But he is not finished using everybody as yet, because he knows that he has still to destroy Lyndon Johnson.

Readers are asking

WHAT causes a stone to form in one of the glands that produces saliva?

There are three sets of salivary glands which produce saliva containing substances absolutely essential to the proper beginning of the digestion of foods. Besides lubricating the mouth, saliva starts digestion which then continues in the stomach and in the intestines.

The largest of these salivary glands on either side of the face just in front of the ear, are the parotids which are the ones affected during an attack of mumps. Another set of glands just under the jaw are called the submaxillary glands and a third set, the submentals, lie in front just below the chin.

Through tiny ducts or canals, saliva pours steadily and smoothly into the mouth. Everyone has noted the remarkable phenomenon that takes place when one watches somebody else chew on a lemon. Through one of the most complex and intricate connections, in a millionth of a second, a signal is sent from the eyes to the brain and back to the salivary glands causing an increased production of saliva.

Occasionally, because of diet or drugs or infection, a tiny deposit of calcium or uric acid forms in this tiny canal and obstructs the free flow of saliva. This stone may grow larger and larger until it affects the proper functioning of the entire gland. Frequently the stone can be removed under local anesthesia. By means of X-ray and the injection of a dye into the tiny ducts, the exact position of the obstructing stone can be found for easier removal.

What measures can be taken to prevent serious injuries in the elderly?

The elderly, the infirm, and those who are recovering from recent illness are often surrounded by all kinds of physical hazards right in the safety of their own home. I am always astonished how frequently broken hips and backs occur following simple falls on slippery floors and loose rugs.

The home that houses such people should be carefully inspected to remove apparent and hidden dangers. A broken piece of linoleum, a carpet loosened at the edge, a waxed floor, a projecting edge of furniture, a poorly lit room are only a fraction of the dangers that can be rectified and thus spare many months of invalidism following a fractured hip.

Vanity keeps many people from using a solid cane with a non-slip rubber base, in and outside the home. With a little persuasion the elderly can be shown the advantage of using this support even in areas that seem completely safe.

Beds should be placed against the wall and the other side protected to prevent the possibility of rolling out of bed and causing serious injury. A light in the bathroom should always be kept lit so that the danger of falling during the night is lessened for those who sleepily try to find their way. The bathtub and the shower are loaded with dangers. There are handrails and non-slip mats to prevent crushed ribs and broken bones. A house tour of safety is a great investment.

Just Between Us—

By Bobby Westbrook

While grateful for the most beautiful April in memory, it didn't make a very wet and chilly May any more welcome. Women, particularly, who had to scurry around finding warm-weather clothes so early, are reluctant to return to the long-sleeved, dark woollens they've already had cleaned for summer storage.

But there's nothing very becoming about goose pimples either and even with the sun coming out intermittently the breezes were chilling.

The children, having had a taste of outdoor freedom, chafed at being kept indoors by rain and damp cold. Dispositions were beginning to mildew.

However, things are bound to get better. With the women golfers holding their opening luncheons, Glen Brook today and Shawnee on June 1, Thursdays and Tuesdays from then on will be good golfing weather.

Both men and women have discovered the scientific fact that weather which practically gives you chills taking out the trash, is merely brisk on the golf course.

Children who are threatened with heat exhaustion during the closing days of school can coolly run a succession of 100-yard dashes without working up a sweat. Just the same, for those tied to the everyday routine, it will be far more comfortable when the temperature balances our wardrobes.

Spiritual and practical aspects of voting stressed

MOUNTAINHOME — Election Day is truly a holy day, not to be spent fighting and quarreling but in asking God's help in making the best selection of leaders and in trusting in God to steer, in the spirit of that prayer, the government of our country.

Rev. Andrew Maloney of St. Bernadette's Catholic Church, Canadensis, told the Barrett Republican Club at their meeting at the Barrett YMCA. His topic was "Prayer in Politics." Prayer should not be divorced from any endeavor including politics, he said. He cited the example of George Washington and other great men in history.

The meeting also featured a demonstration of the use of the voting machine, with an explanation of how to write in the name of a candidate. Using a miniature of the voting machine, John Nauman, explained how the slot could be pulled down to write in the name of a candidate, using the first name, middle initial and last name to insure that the desired candidate receive all the votes given to him.

A voter may call for help when voting but only from the judge of elections, he said. It is important for voters to familiarize themselves with the candidates and procedure before entering the voting booth.

Club members requested that the miniature voting machine be demonstrated again before next fall's elections.

Dr. Evan C. Reese, county chairman, announced that there had been a 70 per cent Republican turnout in the primary election with the Barrett interest running commendably high.

Although two Republican clubs are now functioning in Barrett Township, he prophesied that Barrett will continue high in Republican ranks and voiced the hope that eventually the spirit of unity in the party will increase its solidarity.

Fall torchlight parade Mrs. Viola Nauman, president, presided at the business meeting when plans were made for an old-fashioned torchlight parade and rally in Barrett for the Republican candidate for President of the United States in September.

Antique and modern cars will be featured in the modern edition and refreshments will be held afterward.

The program featured a Mother's Day poem read by Mrs. Raymond Price "Mother in Every Day Dress." Mrs. Leonard Rinaldi sang "The Land Where We'll Never Grow Old."

A surprise feature included a recording made of Mrs. Rena Nauman singing "The Lord's Prayer," recorded by John Nauman especially for this meeting.

County Commissioner Nancy Shukaitis and Dr. and Mrs. Evan Reese were guests at the meeting.

Mannix-Eden rites at St. Matthew's

EAST STROUDSBURG — St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Jayneleen Eden, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. William Eden of East Stroudsburg, to Richard A. Mannix, son of John Mannix of Stroudsburg, and the late Mrs. Pearl Mannix. The nuptial Mass, celebrated by Rev. John Bendik, was preceded by an organ recital by Richard Lakey.

The bride wore a long gown of white peau de soie with bateau neckline and cathedral sleeves. Her costume was complimented by a hood and full train of Venetian lace. She carried gardenias.

Attendants were her sister, Miss Jody Eden, maid of honor, and Miss Deborah Smith of Washington, New Jersey, cousin of the bridegroom.

They wore delicate blue peau covered with white lace and blue chiffon.

Werner Graef, who is a member of the faculty at Pottsdam College, New York, was best man, and Thomas Wilkens of Stroudsburg was an escort. Dr. Joseph W. Stella, the bride's uncle, of Allentown, and Paul Mannix, the bridegroom's brother, served as ushers.

A reception for 100 guests was held at Holiday Inn, East Stroudsburg.

Mrs. Mannix attended East Stroudsburg State College and is a graduate of Central City Business Institute, Syracuse, N.Y. Until recently she was employed as secretary to Marvin Abel of the Monroe County Probation Office.

Mr. Mannix is an employee of the National Cash Register Company. A veteran of four years' service in the U.S. Air Force, he recently returned from a tour of duty at DaNang Air Base, Vietnam.

Brother of P. Manor woman dies

WILKES-BARRE — James A. Feeley of Hazleton, the brother of a Pocono Manor resident, died Tuesday in the Veterans Administration Hospital, Wilkes-Barre.

Born in Hazleton, he was a son of the late Andrew and Minnie Loughran Feeley.

Mr. Feeley was a veteran of World War I, having served with the U. S. Army in France. He was a member of Holy Trinity Roman Catholic Church in Hazleton, St. Gabriel's Holy Name Society, founder and charter member of Split Rock Fishing Club, Freedom Rod and Gun Club, Pioneer Fire Co., Hazleton, and a charter member of Drake-Wear Post 589, VFW, Hazleton.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Marguerite Boyle Feeley, at home; one brother, John P. Feeley, Pompano Beach, Fla., and two sisters, Mrs. Marie Hudson, Pocono Manor, and Miss Helen Feeley, Hazleton.

Services will be held Friday at 10 a.m. in Conahan Funeral Home, Hazleton, with requiem high mass celebrated in Holy Trinity Church at 10:30 a.m.

N.Y. questions Naomi sales

Ottawa News Service
ALBANY, N.Y. — New York Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz has charged that a Pocono Mountain land promotion, involving sale of subdivided lots at prices ranging from $2,950 to $25,000, has been conducted through false and misleading advertising.

Lefkowitz said an investment of $115,000 by New York residents is involved.

The attorney general has obtained a court order against the defendants, Lake Naomi Corp., and the Lake Naomi Realty Corp., both of Pocono Pines, barring them from selling subdivided vacant land without complying with New York registration requirements.

An affidavit filed with supreme court justice William Lyman, in Manhattan, said defendants attempted to circumvent New York law by distinguishing the sale of subdivided vacant land in the Poconos as completely constructed vacation homes for which there is no filing requirement.

Sale of subdivided land in New York can be made only after filing an application and getting approval of the secretary of state.

The affidavit said 56 New York residents purchased an interest in land, paying $40,000 in cash and agreeing to pay a balance of $75,000. A cease-and-desist order sent to the promoter of the scheme, Logan B. Steele, of Summit, N.J., was apparently ignored.

The alleged false, deceptive and misleading advertisements, the attorney general said, offered lot and home for prices of $5,950 and $8,995. He said no resident of New York had been able to purchase and construct at those prices.

Steele said he has offered restitution of the $40,000 in cash paid by New York purchasers, but denied charges in the complaint. Lefkowitz said the contracts of New Yorkers will be cancelled.

Steele said Wednesday night that the charges center around the "technicality" that his corporation is not registered in New York State.

"Absolutely no one has lost any money buying lots at Lake Naomi. If not the most reputable firm in the Poconos, we are certainly one of the most reputable."

Steele said that a problem arose when residents of New York answered advertisements placed in the New York Times. He said the corporation has agreed not to do any more advertising in the Times.

"Lake Naomi is easily one of the three or four best recreational developments in the entire metropolitan area. We are financially stable and are entering our best year," Steele said.

He emphasized that, other than not being registered in New York, the corporation emphatically denies all the other allegations made by the attorney general.

E. S. board orders owners to fix up

EAST STROUDSBURG — The East Stroudsburg Board of Health has sent notices to two privately-owned buildings in the borough ordering the owners to demolish existing unsightly conditions.

Notified were the A. M. Price estate, N. Courtland St., and Mary Zoppy, N. Courtland Street. The Zoppy property was partially destroyed by fire several months ago.

In other business, the board reported that 10 eating and drinking places were inspected with three reports of unsanitary conditions to be corrected.

Four cases of dog bite were reported with animals still under quarantine, four dead animals were removed from borough streets for the month.

Two nuisance complaints were abated according to the board and 28 housing units were inspected under the Federal Housing Ordinance 560.

It was reported that the X-Ray mobile will be available at the Acme parking lot on South Courtland St., from 1 to 5 p.m. and from 6 to 9 p.m. today.

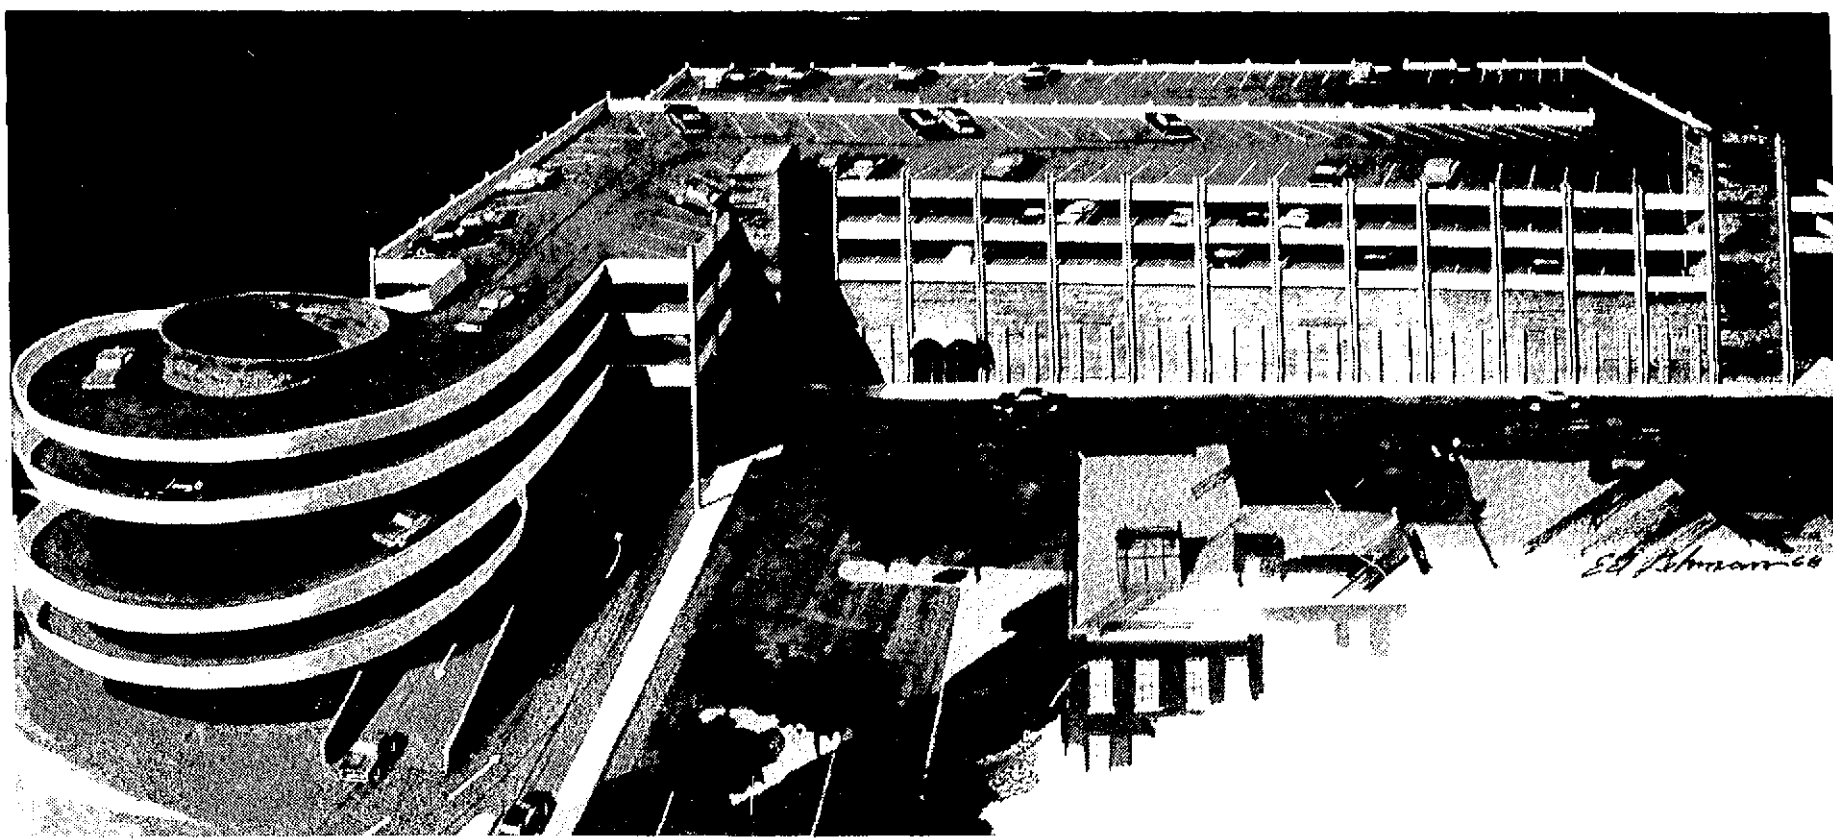

Resort worker acquitted

STROUDSBURG — A former West End resort employee was found not guilty of charges of larceny Wednesday ending a two-day trial in Monroe County Court.

A jury of seven men and five women deliberated for 90 minutes before returning the not guilty verdict for Ralph B. Brown represented by attorney J. Joseph McCluskey.

Brown had been accused of stealing a strongbox containing $250 from Honeyman Haven, a resort near Kresgeville.

McCluskey, court-appointed, put Brown on the stand in his own behalf Tuesday testifying that he did not steal the money. Asst. District Attorney Philip Santucci represented the Commonwealth.

Lutheran Synod splits in two

BUCK HILL FALLS -- The Eastern Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran Church in America, meeting at Buck Hill Falls, Pa., ending more than a year of preparation and two days of debate, voted Wednesday to seek permission to divide into two new units. The vote was 431-368.

The proposal will be submitted to the biennial convention of the Lutheran Church in America in Atlanta, Ga., June 19-25. Traditionally, the parent body has acted favorably on synodical requests regarding size and territorial boundaries.

The division would run along the northern boundaries of Bucks, Chester, Delaware, Montgomery and Philadelphia counties to establish a separate synod for the five-county metropolitan Philadelphia area. The second new unit, to be known as the Northeast Pennsylvania Synod, would encompass 14 northeast Pennsylvania counties.

It would include the cities of Allentown, Bethlehem, Easton, Hazleton, Pottsville, Reading, Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, and many rural congregations.

A synod spokesman said it is possible the new metropolitan synod would include Lutheran congregations in New Castle County, Del. These Delaware congregations now are part of the Maryland synod, and the move would require consent of that synod.

The Rev. Dr. Samuel Kidd, president, termed the outcome of Wednesday's secret ballot "a forward step for our territory and for the church as a whole."

The 220-year-old Eastern Pennsylvania Synod is the oldest and by far the largest of the LCA's 32 synods. It has 372,000 baptized members—about 230,000 active members—in its 531 congregations.

The new synods formed by the split would still be among the top ten numerically in the LCA. The Greater Philadelphia Synod would have 93,000 active members in 180 congregations and the Northeastern Pennsylvania Synod 137,000 members in 351 congregations.

The division voted Wednesday had been endorsed in principle at last year's convention by a 387-223 vote. A committee on structure and function, headed by the Rev. Dr. William Horn, pastor of St. John's Church, Philadelphia, and a proponent of the two-synod plan, was directed to present a more detailed report at this year's convention.

The two-synod plan involves not only the geographic boundaries, but also the division of assets between the two new corporations.

Teamsters strike Drackett

EAST STROUDSBURG — Teamster's Local 773 Wednesday started to picket Drackett Products, Inc. in East Stroudsburg.

Richard Hontz, agent representing the 25 local members involved in the strike, said that the strike would continue until the company is ready to negotiate with us.

"We spent six hours yesterday (Tuesday) discussing demands but the company refused and ignored our proposals even though we gave every consideration to theirs."

The group is a newly organized unit of Local 773 with headquarters at 1335 Hamilton St., Allentown. Labor Board elections were held in April. The strike is a result of negotiations which were in process for the first contract.

"It is in the language of the contract where we are at a standstill," Hontz said, "and no economic issues were considered yet."

Representatives in the negotiations included Anthony Molinaro, business agent for Local 773; John Moore, labor relations man and Fred Wilson, vice president of Drackett, both from Cincinnati, Ohio, and John M. Hood, plant manager.

Hood made no comments regarding the company's position when contacted Wednesday night.

Jury chosen in dope case, testimony continues today

STROUDSBURG — The Commonwealth's case against two East Stroudsburg residents accused of the possession of narcotics will continue today in Monroe County Court, starting at 10 a.m.

Georgia Morris and William D. Battle, East Stroudsburg, are defendants in the case that began Wednesday afternoon in county court.

Following the selection of a jury and alternates, which lasted more than an hour, District Attorney Phillip Williams called the Commonwealth's first witness.

Representing the defendants are: Peter J. O'Brien and Robert Lillard, Nashville, Tenn., for Miss Morris, and J. Joseph McCluskey for Battle.

The pair is charged with being found to have possession of narcotics, marijuana, Aug. 16, 1967, in an East Stroudsburg apartment at 28 N. Kistler Street.

Before opening testimony for the prosecution, Atty. O'Brien moved to have certain state police officers involved in the case removed from the courtroom so they would not be influenced by testimony.

The motion was sustained by President Judge Arlington W. Williams.

According to District Attorney Williams, on Aug. 16, at 6:45 p.m., a third suspect, Percy Harris, was apprehended in the parking lot of Norge Village, a laundromat in East Stroudsburg, and charged with the possession of narcotics.

Williams said that Miss Morris then appeared on the scene, left, and was followed to the East Stroudsburg address. A later search of the upstairs apartment yielded the narcotics, according to Williams.

Prior to Commonwealth testimony, each juror was asked three basic questions by defense counsel McCluskey and O'Brien.

1. Are you or a member of your family a law enforcement officer?

2. Are there any teenagers in your household?

3. Do you feel you could not render a fair and impartial verdict in this case because the defendants are not members of the white race?

Williams encountered immediate objections from the defense upon questioning the first witness for the prosecution, Mrs. Jean Lowry, 44 Broad St., Stroudsburg.

Objections came when Williams attempted to offer as admissible evidence papers Mrs. Lowry presented, allegedly confirming both Morris and Battle had rented a safety deposit box in the East Stroudsburg National Bank where Mrs. Lowry is a teller.

After a series of objections from defense attorneys, the records for renting of a box and papers alleging that a number of visitations were made to the box by the defendants, were admitted as evidence for the Commonwealth.

Under cross-examination by McCluskey, Mrs. Lowry admitted that she did not keep the records herself and also admitted that she could not "personally" say whether Miss Morris made visits to the box on a certain particular day.

Court adjourned at approximately 4:40 p.m. until 10 a.m. today, when the Commonwealth is expected to call its next witness.

The following jurors have been selected for the case: Carroll R. All, Stroudsburg; Leona G. Butz, East Middle Stroud; Willis C. Dunlap, East Stroudsburg; Charles E. Greiner, Stroudsburg; Howard P. Merriam, Middle Stroud; Ernest Michelfelder, Stroudsburg; J. C. Mullins, Stroudsburg; Ethel Oppelt, Barrett.

Josephine Riker, Chesnut Hill; Allen Rommo, Middle Stroud; Robert O. Shell, Jr., Stroudsburg; William Smale, Polk; Carl VanBuskirk, North Stroud; and Charlotte M. Westbrook, Delaware Water Gap.

P.M. announces graduation speakers

SWIFTWATER — Four student speakers have been named for Pocono Mountain Junior-Senior High School Commencement exercises June 10.

Addressing an estimated 120 senior graduates will be honor students Beverly Frantz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dayton G. Frantz, of Scotrun, and Barbara Christman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Christman of Pocono Pines.

The welcome address will be given by John Gantzhorn, senior class president and son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gantzhorn of Tannersville.

Roger Geer, honor student for the month of May and son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Geer of Mountainhome, will deliver the farewell address.

Miss Frantz plans to enter Muhlenberg College, Allentown, where she will be enrolled in a Liberal Arts program. During her high school term she was active in chorus, four years; girl's basketball, four years; field hockey, three years; chorus treasurer, class secretary-treasurer and student treasurer.

Miss Christman plans to enroll in a nursing course at College of Misericordia, Dallas. Her high school activities include band, four years; girls' basketball manager, three years; field hockey, two years, and prom and play committees. She also won the Daughters of American Revolution Award.

Geer participated in junior basketball for two years and track four years. He is a member of the chorus, ensemble and band. He had leading roles in two musical productions, "My Fair Lady" and "Brigadoon." He is a recipient of the American Legion Award and has served as chief of the stage crew.

Gantzhorn was on the baseball team for three years; basketball, four years; member of the band, two years, and student council, two years.

Dr. William F. Nye, superintendent, will present the senior class and diplomas will be awarded to the graduates by James Price, president of the Pocono Mountain School Board, and Lawrence L. Wile, high school principal.

Harry Wertheiser, assistant high school principal, will present the awards.

The Rev. E. Robert Galligan, St. Mary's of the Mount Church,

Mount Pocono, will lead the invocation.

The band will be under the direction of Russell Speicher and chorus conducted by R. Leland Wesner.

The Rev. Ralph Roth, Trinity Episcopal Church, Mount Pocono, will offer the benediction.

Area girl chosen top student nurse

READING — A Tobyhanna girl was chosen the "Outstanding Student Nurse" in Area Two of the Student Nurse's Assn. of Pennsylvania during ceremonies Wednesday night in Reading.

Jacqueline Reddicks, representing the Eastern Hospital School of Nursing, won the award while competing against candidates from eight other nursing schools.

She is a 1966 graduate of Pocono Mountain High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Reddicks. She has three sisters and three brothers.

Miss Reddicks won the vote of the eight judges after she recited her philosophy of life and answered a major question.

She earned the right to enter the competition after being chosen the "Outstanding Student Nurse" at the Eastern Hospital.

Her father works at the Tobyhanna Army Depot and her mother works in the depot's executive dining room.

Man jailed in default

STROUDSBURG — Anthony J. McKeegan, 31, of 472 Hill St., East Stroudsburg, was committed to Monroe County Jail Wednesday in default of $500 bail on an assault and battery charge.

McKeegan was taken before East Stroudsburg Justice of the Peace Harold D. Larson Sr.

The complaint was brought by his wife, Mary, 28. She charges that McKeegan grabbed her by the neck.

Receive two awards at Varsity 'S' fete

Reish, Stolinski top S-burg athletes

BUSHKILL — Mike Reish and Mike Stolinski each received two awards Wednesday night at the 17th annual Varsity S Club banquet honoring the senior letter-winners at Stroudsburg High School.

Reish was named winner of the Arch Rundle Memorial Award, given to the most dependable senior athlete, and the outstanding performer on the track squad. Stolinski, who plans to enroll at Harwick College, received the Varsity S Scholarship and the trophy for being the outstanding wrestler.

The other top award of the night, the Tom Waring Award (a check for $100) went to Charles Zellers.

Other outstanding award winners were Tim Walsh, baseball; Arley Williams, basketball; Susan Baustien, field hockey; Gary VanBuskirk, football; Rosemary Dimmick, girls basketball; Rich Spinner, golf, and Gary Meekes, rifle.

The Varsity S also honored the Mountie golf team for winning the District 11 golf title, the first district title for S-burg since 1951. Championship jackets were presented to Spinner, Jim Meissner, Barry Cohen and Tom Gould. Stolinski, who had already been awarded a jacket, received his third trophy of the night.

Head golf coach Jerry Stulgaitis also received a jacket from the club in addition to a gift. The club also turned over to the school a plaque with a picture of the wrestling team and will also donate one with the golf team on.

Each of the head coaches introduced their assistants and each of the letter-winners. The club in turn presented plaques to each of the senior letter-winners.

Head coaches speaking briefly were Wilmont Smith, baseball; Anthony Romano, basketball; Carla Terese, cheerleaders; Ellen Frick, field hockey; Andy Silcock, football; Bonita Schreck, girls' basketball; Stulgaitis; Wilbur Woodley, rifle; Karl Diekl, soccer; John DeVivo, tennis; Larry Lewis, track, and Chet Dalgewicz, wrestling.

John Eiler, East Stroudsburg State athletic director, told the crowd of 300 at the Fernwood if an athlete is to succeed he must have the following five things:

1. Inspiration.
 2. Desire.
 3. Able to come back against the odds.
 4. Perfection.
 5. Spiritual belief.
- "A person has to analyze himself and find his weakness. Then he must spend more time on the weakness and not his strength," Eiler added.

Speaking to the athletes Eiler said, "You are fortunate to have a club like this, an administration and coaches and something like this affair shouldn't be taken lightly. I have yet to find a coach that will instruct his players to do anything that will hamper your career."

Bernie (Doe) Helman, club president the past two years, welcomed the gathering and thanked all those who helped him his two years in office.

Sam Everitt, banquet chairman, acted as master of ceremonies and introduced the coaches and Samuel O. Welis III, assistant superintendent of schools. Welis, who was attending his last fete in the role of athletic director, noted he had recommended the hiring of all the present coaches and was still behind them.

The benediction and invocation was given by the Rev. Harold Burkett, Arlington-Wesley Methodist Church.

Dodgers cut Cards' lead to .004

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Big Don Drysdale extended his scoreless string to 29 innings by firing a five-hitter and hitting the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 2-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday night.

St. Louis' fifth loss in six games, coupled with San Francisco's 2-1 victory over Atlanta, trimmed the Cardinals' National League lead over the second place Giants to four percentage points.

Drysdale, whose four victories this season all have been shut-outs, got the only run he needed in the third inning when Paul Popovich walked and scored on Willie Davis' double—the lone hit off loser Bob Gibson, who left in the eighth for a pinch hitter.

The Dodgers added an unearned run off reliever Joe Hoerner in the ninth after Willie Davis led off with an infield hit. Hoerner pitched Davis off first but the fleet Dodger reached second when Orlando Cepeda's throw hit him in the back for an error. Davis then stole third and scored on Ron Fairly's single.

Mays breaks slump with key single

ATLANTA (AP) — Willie Mays broke out of an 0-for-12 slump with a run-scoring single in the ninth inning, giving the San Francisco Giants a 2-1 victory over the Atlanta Braves Wednesday night.

Mays' two-out single to left scored Ron Hunt, deciding a pitching duel between the Braves' right-hander and winner Mike McCormick, who allowed just three hits in evening his record at 4-4.

Hunt led off the ninth with a single—the fourth hit off Jarvis—and Frank Johnson sacrificed. Ty Cline popped up before Mays came through with the tie-breaking hit. Jarvis had gotten Mays to fly out and fanned the Giants' center fielder twice going into the ninth.

The Braves took a 1-0 lead in the first when Felipe Alou led off with a double and scored on Joe Torre's two-out single.

San Francisco tied it in the third on Hal Lanier's triple to right and McCormick's sacrifice fly to left.

Washington ends four game slide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank Bertina took a two-hit shutout into the ninth but needed relief help from Dave Baldwin Wednesday night as Washington stopped Chicago 2-0 on Sam Bowens' two-run homer.

The victory ended a four-game Senators losing streak. Bowens broke up a scoreless pitching duel in the sixth with a drive that eluded left fielder Tommy Davis. Davis crashed into the fence as he leaped for it, but both his glove and the ball dropped into the Senators' bullpen for a home run.

Frank Howard stroked two singles and a double in four tries to raise his league-leading average to .348. He scored ahead of Bowens' homer.

with one out in the first inning, Allen put the Phillies on top, 2-0, with a drive to the roof of the left-center field stands, his fifth of the season.

Callison singled in the third and rode home on Allen's third season homer, which hit the edge of the roof in deep center. Roberto Pena's squeeze bunt put the Phillies ahead, 5-0, in the fourth.

Tony Gonzalez hit his first homer in the next inning driving Met starter Don Cardwell, 1-5, to the showers. Gonzalez' single drove in another run in the sixth.

Callison made it 8-0 with a fourth straight single off Bill Short.

Harmon Killebrew's single, giving Minnesota a 4-3 victory over Detroit Wednesday night.

Both hits came off Fred Lashier, 2-1, who relieved Tiger starter Mickey Lolich at the start of the eighth after the Tigers had tied the score 3-3 in the top of the inning.

Twins' pitcher Jim Perry staked himself to a 3-0 lead with a three-run homer in the second inning, but weakened in the eighth when the Tigers tied the score.

Don Wert's second homer of the game and fifth of the season pulled Detroit within one run in the eighth. Then Gates Brown tripled to finish Perry and Ron Perranoski, 4-0, relieved only to give up a single.

Twins edge Detroit in eighth, 4-3

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Tony Oliva doubled in the eighth inning and scored on Harmon Killebrew's single, giving Minnesota a 4-3 victory over Detroit Wednesday night.

Both hits came off Fred Lashier, 2-1, who relieved Tiger starter Mickey Lolich at the start of the eighth after the Tigers had tied the score 3-3 in the top of the inning.

Twins' pitcher Jim Perry staked himself to a 3-0 lead with a three-run homer in the second inning, but weakened in the eighth when the Tigers tied the score.

Don Wert's second homer of the game and fifth of the season pulled Detroit within one run in the eighth. Then Gates Brown tripled to finish Perry and Ron Perranoski, 4-0, relieved only to give up a single.

Sens farm Mike Epstein

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mike Epstein, the big slugger whose refusal to report to the minor leagues last year forced Baltimore to trade him to Washington, was sent to the Senators' Buffalo farm club Wednesday.

The 230-pound first baseman was hitting only .099 this season and had struck out 26 times in 91 times at bat.

Epstein was selected as the Minor League Player of the Year by the Sporting News in 1966 after leading the International League with 29 homers, 109 runs batted in and a .309 batting average with Rochester.

When the Orioles tried to send him back to the minors last year, Epstein began a celebrated holdout and went home to California, refusing to report.

Finally the Orioles traded him to the Senators with pitcher Frank Bertina for pitcher Pete Richert.

Last season, Epstein batted .326 with nine homers and 29 RBIs.

Schmalzle hurls 1st no-hitter

HAWLEY — Bill Schmalzle pitched a no-hitter and struck out 14 Wednesday in leading Wallenpaupack to an 8-0 victory over Falls Overfield.

Schmalzle was also the top hitter for the Buckhorns with three for three and two RBIs. Pete Nell also drove in two runs for the winners.

Dr. Fager quick horse

The trouble with Johnny Nerud, the horse trainer, is the hole in his head.

People were afraid it was beginning to show when he brought the 4-year-old colt, Dr. Fager, out to Hollywood Park to run in the Californian without ever letting the horse put a foot on the track till the post parade.

But, when Dr. Fager went right from a transcontinental plane to the winner's circle, some owners began to wonder if their trainers might be better off with a ventilated skull.

John Nerud had a head of wall-to-wall bone like everybody else until Aug. 30, 1965, when he took off after a runaway horse on the backstretch at Aqueduct during a morning work.

There's an art to grabbing loose horses, and Johnny may have come up to the race a little short, because the runaway flipped him out of his saddle as they drew abreast. For weeks, Johnny carried on all his conversations through a distant hum—like there was a bird on the wire somewhere.

He couldn't understand, either, why he kept eating things that disagreed with him. A drinking man expects to throw up a lot, but Johnny didn't drink.

One day, it got to the point where he couldn't hold anything. He came down a gangplank from an airplane like Leon Errol. The buzzing in his ears had gotten to a roar. There was a war going on in his head.

Johnny, who had never been sick a day in his life, didn't recognize the symptoms, but his wife did. He had been walking around for two months with a blood clot in the head.

Two operations later, at the Lahey Clinic in Boston, and, once again, John could carry on a conversation without feeling there was a bad connection.

The doctor's name who performed the operation was "Fager," which explains the colt's name. Less easy to explain is why Dr. Fager (the horse, not the neurosurgeon) wasn't at the 1967 Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont.

He was (and is) easily the fastest mile-and-an-eighth horse in the country. The only time in his life he ever finished out of the money, he won the race by 5 1/2 lengths. If that sounds complicated, the explanation isn't much help. He was disqualified because a horse that finished 26 1/2 lengths out of the race complained that Dr. Fager crowded him out of it!

If you find THAT hard to believe, try figuring why the stewards didn't. They placed Dr. Fager last. I'd like to see these guys judging a one-sided fight some time.

At the time of the Derby in '67, Dr. Fager had just trounced Damascus in the Withers Mile. He was, many times, to trim the horse which finished a close second to Proud Clarion in the Derby, Barb's Delight.

But Nerud passed the trip to Kentucky. He doesn't like the Derby. Not because he had the winner one year in Gallant Fox until Bill Shoemaker stood up in the irons a furlong too soon, but because "it comes too early in the year—before a horse is properly seasoned."

Dr. Fager went on to set track records in the mile and the mile and a quarter while dropping Derby horses. But when he finally hooked up with Damascus (and Buckpasser), he finished third. For the only time in his career he was that far back without the help of the stewards. In the Woodward Stakes, he chased Damascus and Buckpasser at the wire because he took off too soon after a couple of no-chance rabbits in the early going.

Still, you like to see Babe Ruth or Lou Gehrig get his swings in a World Series. I'm glad Don Budge got to play Wimbledon as well as the national clay courts. You can make mere money as a heavyweight, barnstorming with your chauffeur. But you don't make the record books.

If you're a horse, and you can learn to fan a cowboy with your hat, you can make money in movies. But racing is supposed to be a sport, not a business. If you're a thoroughbred and your credentials warrant it, you should get to contest the Triple Crown—no matter what time of the year they run it, or even they run it on snow or during total eclipses of the moon.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — The only trouble with an 8-2 football record and a post-season bowl bid is that your fans expect more of the same next year.

And that's one of Coach Joe Paterno's problems as he analyzes the strengths and weaknesses of his Penn State squad, which just concluded spring practice. He knows it won't be easy to duplicate such a fine 1967 season, which ended in a 17-17 tie with Florida State in the Gator Bowl.

Gone are 20 lettermen, including quarterback Tom Sherman and end Jack Curry—respective holders of Nittany Lions passing and receiving records—and two All-East gridirers, center Bill Lenkaitis and tackle Rich Buzin.

At the same time, 20 lettermen return, including two half-backs whose running should increase the Beaver Stadium wind velocity this winter, and a pass catcher who is rated in Curry's class.

To direct his ground and air wars, Paterno has chosen quarterback Charles Burkhardt, a junior of McKees Rocks. In last

Giusti holds Redlegs to two singles

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dave Giusti a 28-year-old right-hander didn't allow a hit until two were out in the eighth Wednesday, as the Houston Astros took a 1-0 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. Giusti wound up with a two-hitter.

Giusti's no-hitter ended when Pete Rose blooped a single into shallow left.

Giusti struck out seven, but walked four.

Cincinnati 000 000 000—0 2 1
Giusti and Adlesh; Maloney, Lee (9) and Bench. W—Giusti, 4-1; Maloney, 3-3.

Saturday's intra-squad game, the Montour High graduate completed 19-33 passes for 223 yards and one touchdown.

"He's been looking good all spring," Paterno said in a telephone interview. "I think he's a fine passer. He can hit his receivers from 35-40 yards, and did a good job Saturday." The main thing he must work on is ball handling.

The coach added that his top pass receiver, senior Ted Kwilick, was not in Burkhardt's squad Saturday—a disadvantage the quarterback won't have during the regular season.

Few coaches can boast of half-backs with the ability of Charlie Pittman and Bob Campbell.

Last season, Campbell was hurt in the season's third game, after gaining 247 yards in 36 carries for a 6.8 average. Pittman took over for him and gained 580 yards on 119 carries for a 4.9 average. This year, both will be in the same backfield, and might even alternate positions in a game to confuse the opposition.

Fullback Don Abbey, last year's regular at that position, is a question mark because of a knee operation. His backup man is Tom Cherry, a halfback last year, who should see action whether or not Abbey is ready to go this fall.

Finding a backup man for Burkhardt is a much bigger problem.

"The number two quarterback job is wide open," said Paterno, who cited a few additional problems for his squad.

"We're not as strong in the offensive line as last year," he said. "We need more consistent blocking. There's also a problem of over-all depth. Many boys from the freshman team who we wanted to look at were injured. "And our defense will be small this year, the smallest defensive team I can remember."

But that defensive job can be made much easier if the Nittany Lions' offense realizes its potential. If it does, duplication or betterment of last year's record, and even another bowl bid, remain good possibilities.

Penn State 9 to try new innovation

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — While basketball experiments with three officials, a Penn State journalism professor feels it's time for baseball to try something new — and he'll get his wish Friday.

The Nittany Lion baseball team has agreed to test in an intra-squad game the rule devised by Dr. Ivan L. Preston. The professor described his innovation this way:

"When the baserunner is caught he must pay two penalties — he's wiped off the base paths, and his team is charged with an out. My solution is this: charge the offensive team with one penalty."

Preston explained the offensive manager would have two options when one of his runners is tagged out: remove the runner from the base paths with no out being charged; or, take the out, and return the runner to the last base.

Suppose a batter leads off with a single, Preston said, and then is thrown out attempting to steal second. The offensive manager could take the out and send the runner back to first, or take the runner off the bases, and not be charged with an out. In the latter case, it would be as if the inning started over again.

The system would result in higher scores and more exciting baserunning, Preston maintained.

Bangor High names four outstanding students

Sara E. Stine

BANGOR — Bangor High School has named two valedictorians and two salutatorians in its graduating class this year.

Sara E. Stine was selected as valedictorian of the college preparatory-general course, while Elvira A. Comunale was named salutatorian in the same class.

Linda M. Schroeder was appointed valedictorian in the business education-vocational course, while Jonathan S. Catanzaro filled the position of salutatorian in the same division.

Miss Stine, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Stine, Portland, was a member of the honor society for three years and served as band librarian two years. She served in the chorus for three years and was president one year.

She was a member of district and regional chorus one year. Future Teachers of America two years; newspaper staff one year; Library Club, three years; Sports Club one year; sophomore ensemble and the yearbook staff, one year and was a member of the cast of the musical production, "Bye-Bye Birdie."

Miss Schroeder, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schroeder, Portland, is a business education student. She has been a member of the Library Club and Sports Club, both for three years, and the Bowling Club, two years. She had terms of one year in the honor society and one year on the typing staff of the newspaper.

Miss Comunale is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Comunale, 832 N. Garibaldi Ave., Roseto. She was in the chorus for three years and the Future Nurses Club, Library Club and Honor Society for two years, with single years on the Future Teachers of America, sophomore ensemble and Psychology Club.

Catanzaro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Catanzaro, 720 Garibaldi Ave., Roseto, is a distributive education student in the vocational-technical program. He was a member of the distributive education club of America and the honor society, both for one year.

Billions of birds fly thousands of miles each year on their seasonal migrations.

May 23 big day in history

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, May 23, the 144th day of 1968. There are 222 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1915, Germany declared war on Italy.

On this date: In 1455, the Battle of Saint Albans was fought in the War of Roses.

In 1701, Capt. William Kidd was hanged in London after being convicted on charges of piracy and murder.

In 1788, South Carolina entered the union as the eighth state.

In 1911, the U.S. House of Representatives passed the Panama Canal bill.

In 1939, the submarine "Squalus" sank off Portsmouth, N.H. Thirty-three of the 59 men aboard were rescued with a diving bell.

In 1945, the chief of the Nazi secret police, Heinrich Himmler, committed suicide at Luneburg, Germany, three days after his capture by the British.

Ten years ago: It was announced that Argentine destroyers had attacked — and probably sunk — an unidentified submarine 800 miles south of Buenos Aires.

Five years ago: A new city government took office in Birmingham, Ala. increasing hope for racial peace in the city.

One year ago: It was reported that Egypt was carrying out land, sea and air operations to block the Gulf of Aqaba.

Today's birthday: Former railroad executive Patrick McGinnis is 64.

Thought for today: I never think of the future. It comes soon enough—Albert Einstein, physicist, 1879-1955.

Price up, cuts same

STRODSBURG — The price of a haircut goes up, some people gripe and some don't, but either way they still get their hair cut.

Price of a haircut increased Tuesday morning from $1.75 to $2 for adults and $1.50 to $1.75 for children.

A union barber in Stroudsburg Tuesday said that his business was the same as it was last week and that he saw no decrease in the number of customers.

A non-union barber, who did not increase his prices, said Tuesday that his business was the same.

The number of customers remained about the same.

County hires new registrar

STRODSBURG — Mrs. Cherry H. Rahn, Stroudsburg, has replaced Mrs. Mary German, Stroudsburg, as assistant county registrar.

Mrs. Rahn spent her first day in the new position Monday and is the mother of Ned Rahn, former Stroudsburg basketball star, and now a member of the Muhlenberg College cage squad.

Mrs. German submitted her resignation when she announced that she would be moving out of the area early this summer.

Property sold in Ross Twp.

STRODSBURG — A Stroudsburg couple has purchased property in Ross Twp., according to a deed filed Monday in the Monroe County Courthouse.

According to the papers, Richard and Catherine Person, Stroudsburg, purchased the property from Florence M. Kites, Bethlehem.

Moosic resident wins award of $1,000 at Tobyhanna Depot

LOUIS SYLVESTER—Displaying certificate

TOBYHANNA — A $1,000 suggestion award was presented at Tobyhanna Army Depot this week to Louis Sylvester of Moosic.

The 31-year-old supply specialist submitted an idea that was estimated to save $192,945.

The suggestion concerned 10-ton truck tractors which were to be packed and preserved at Army level A-A for shipment to Southeast Asia. This is an elaborate process used for long-time storage and also provides extreme protection for the material while in transit.

Sylvester suggested that the Army Automotive Command in Warren, Mich., contact the First Logistical Command in Vietnam to find out if it had an immediate need for some of these vehicles. If this was so, then Level C pack and preservation would suffice, and this would still provide adequate protection in transit.

Savings figure
The First Logistical Command said it could use 300 of the truck tractors immediately. The saving came to $643.53 per vehicle.

Reports from Vietnam indicate the tractors arrived in excellent condition.

Sylvester, a veteran of the Air Force, has been employed at the depot since 1953.

He has won two other suggestion awards, and has twice been cited for sustained superior performance.

Sylvester said he would use his latest award to catch up on some home repairs.

He is married and the father of two children.

P.M. plans Indians changing class work project tactics

SWIFTWATER — Pocono Mountain School District has announced plans for this year's Summer School for elementary and secondary school students. Classes will be held here at the high school.

The elementary program will be split in two, three-week sessions. The first session will run from June 20 to July 12 (No school—July 4 and 5); the second session from July 15 to August 2.

The secondary curriculum will be in session for six weeks; June 20 to Aug. 2. The secondary courses which will be offered are:

English seven, English eight, English nine, English 10, English 11, Science seven, Science eight, Earth & Space, Biology, Personal Typing, Fundamental Math, Experiences in Math, Mathematics seven, Mathematics eight, Algebra I, Algebra II, Geometry, Geography seven, History eight, World Culture, United States History, Pennsylvania History and Civics.

WARREN (AP) — After losing the generations — long struggle to keep the white man from encroaching on their hunting and fishing grounds, the Seneca Indian Nation is pursuing a different approach: Let the white man in and charge a fee.

The Nation's council spent the weekend looking over the shoreline of the Allegheny Reservoir, a project the Indians fought furiously, because it put about 5,000 acres of their reservation underwater and took another 5,000 acres for approach rights.

Seneca President Calvin John says the Nation plans to build a boat launching site with a parking lot and concessions this summer.

The Senecas plan to develop it later into a recreation complex rivaling the state parks in New York State and Pennsylvania.

"We feel it has great potential," says John.

The Indians have been selling fishing licenses ever since the reservoir rose to its full pool behind the new Kinzua Dam about two years ago.

They had to give up surface rights, but they retained the hunting and fishing privileges granted in a 1927 law.

The Senecas have been selling hunting licenses ever since the law was passed.

The fee for an Indian fishing license is $3.25 for New York State residents and $5.50 for nonresidents.

The hunting license fees are the same.

The Indian seasons, game laws and fees coincide with the New York State regulations, since the Allegheny and Cattaraugus reservations are in the state.

About 10 Seneca wardens patrol the reservations.

John estimates the license fees provide the Nation with about $2,000 a year, which goes into a general fund.

John says many Western Indian tribes push tourism on their reservations, but few are also in the hunting and fishing business.

"We are fortunate to be one of the few tribes who retain the hunting rights," he says.

ADVERTISE IN THE POCONO RECORD

Canal park plan proposed

HUGUENOT, N. Y. — A proposal to restore a one-mile segment of the Delaware and Hudson Canal near Cuddebackville, N. Y., was endorsed by the Regional Chamber of Commerce Council last week.

The restoration could include a wide variety of park facilities, and would be roughly similar to a National Park Service restoration of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal outside Washington, D. C.

The Regional Chamber is a federation of Chambers in seven counties—Pike in Pennsylvania; Orange, Rockland, Sullivan and Ulster in New York and Passaic and Sussex in New Jersey. August Metz of Milford represents the Pike County Chamber on the Council.

The proposal was presented to the Chambers by Malcolm A. Booth of Goshen, director of the Orange County Community of Museums and Galleries.

Among the facilities that could be included in the project Booth said, are a canoe rental, a 19th Century restaurant, a reconstructed lockhouse, a picnic area, an active sports field for softball and tennis, and stables at which the care of horses could be taught.

A major attraction would be the rebuilding of the 1851 aqueduct bridge built by John A. Roebling, using principles he later used in designing the Brooklyn Bridge.

Proponents of the restoration hope that it could be undertaken by a local park agency, such as the Orange County Park Commission, with any federal or state assistance that might be available.

Booth estimated that the canal restoration would attract "at least an additional 100,000 tourists a year" to the Port Jervis-Wurtsboro area. The proposed site is on Route 209, eight miles north of Port Jervis.

Philatelic group names new officers

STROUDSBURG — The Pocono Mountains Philatelic Society elected officers for the 1968-69 season, at the meeting held recently.

Elected were: Robert Zellers, President; Charles Zellers, secretary; Peter Peppel, treasurer.

The annual dinner of the society will be held June 4. Rudy Butsch, Box 187, Stroudsburg, should be contacted for reservations.

It was announced that a six cent Register and Vote stamp will be issued June 27 in Washington, D. C. The original Register and Vote five cent stamp was reprinted but this one should be of a different design.

The six cent issues of the Ten American Historical Flags will have first day sale on July 4 in Pittsburgh.

A five cent postal card for the 25th anniversary of the Women Marines will be released July 26 in San Francisco.

The 12 cent Henry Ford, in the Prominent American Series will have first day sale at Greenfield Village, Mich., on July 30.

The United Nations will issue three items May 31: a 13 cent Postal Card for airmail use; a 13 cent Airmail sheet and a six cent regular issue.

Deeds recorded

STROUDSBURG — A total of seven deeds were filed in the Monroe County register and recorder's office.

They were: Clyde D. Learn, Stroudsburg, to William E. and Rose M. Richards, Allentown, property in Middle Smithfield Twp.; Lake Naomi Realty Corp., Stroudsburg, to Ben and Marie Tranisano, Newark, N. J., in Tobyhanna Twp.

Locust Lake Village, Pocono Lake, to Hans B. and Evelyn B. Gundlach, in Tobyhanna Twp.; John E. and Joan M. Delrick, Smithfield Twp., to James N. and Harriet S. Manley, Piscataway, N. J., in Smithfield Twp.

Julius and Mary Ginsburg, Stroudsburg, to Betty Jean Blair, Stroudsburg, in Stroudsburg; William J. Reaser and Madelyn Motts, co-executors of the will of Fred S. Reaser, to Eugene and Anna Haller, Stroudsburg, in Hamilton Twp.

Clement and Mary Price, Stroudsburg, to Harry J. and Marguerite Woods, Middle Smithfield Twp., in Stroudsburg.

Blood drive seeks to top 1967 mark

EAST STROUDSBURG — "If we do as well as last year, I would be very happy; but I hope we do better," said Rev. Harold C. Eaton, chairman of the Red Cross blood drive to be held at East Stroudsburg Methodist Church on Monday, from 10:45 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.

The collection is being sponsored by the East Stroudsburg Ministerium, which includes the First Baptist Church, Salvation Army, Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, Presbyterian and Methodist churches.

"Last year," Rev. Eaton said, "we collected 137 pints, 12 pints over the quota of 125."

Donor sources
Among last year's donors were employees of Kulp's Foundry, Shaw Insulator, International Boiler Works, Patterson-Kelly, Line Material, Ronson and Drackell.

Other donors included faculty and students from East Stroudsburg State College, staff and nurses from the General Hospital, merchants and bankers, and walk-ins who responded to radio and newspaper publicity.

"It was most gratifying to see the way our community responded to this vital program last year," Rev. Eaton said. "With the rising needs for blood at the General Hospital, we should try to make this year's drive even more of a success."

And You Don't Need Cash!

759 Main Street, Stroudsburg

Voice of Broadway

NEW YORK — Musical star Mary Martin and producer-husband Richard Halliday are writing a huge book (dozens of illustrations) — about needlepoint . . . Don't scoff — Dick's even the better needler . . . A softdrink exec (not from the Atlanta firm) is trying to convince Wallace to throw his supporters to Dick Nixon . . . Rock-record exec Phil Spector's comment on Dear Lennie Bernstein's statement that he likes "five per cent of rock and roll" was: "Then he picked the wrong five per cent."

James Michener, who spent a long time there researching his new "Iberia" book, calls Spain a "semi-liberal" country "with a great deal of freedom . . . a nation pulling itself up" and "far from the hard-core dictatorship of Russia."

The Winston Guests will make the papers again (their last headlines erupted when they sold off a fortune in art) . . . "Moms" Mabley broke it up again on Merv Griffin's show; Moms is one of the funniest humans — fastest gums in showbiz . . . And she's a Pro — not some venerable accident of antique impudence; and she's in her 70s . . . Old 52nd St. "18 Club" star Frankie Hyers is out of Will Rogers Hospital at Saranac and working again as assistant manager of the Savarin Restaurant in Newark's Penn Station.

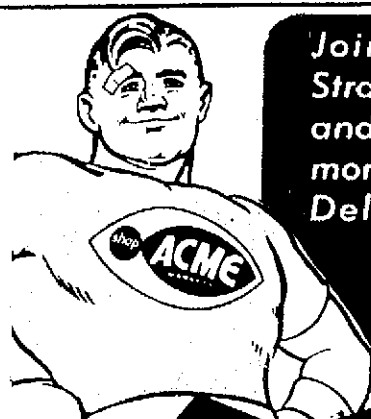

Bob Tisch will convert eight of his Loew's Theatres to "piggybacks," twin theatres atop each other; several have proven successful on Third Ave. at 57th St. (Little Times Square) . . . Air Pollution Control Commissioner Austin Heller's due to end his hassle with Mayor Lindsay by July 1 one way or the other . . . While Katie Hepburn's starring in "Lion in Winter" her brother Dr. Robert Hepburn became a Gene McCarthy vote-taker in Connecticut . . . "Man of La Mancha" star Irving Jacobson celebrates his 60th acting anniversary June 18 — and he's only 63 — toddled out on stage at three in a Yiddish play starring his parents.

That no doubt old civil libertarian Pablo Picasso's flipped his abstract wig over his 19-year-old daughter Paloma's pursuit of a film career: Pab wanted her to paint and Paloma counters, "I've never known an artist to lead a happy life." . . . It wasn't even St. Patrick's Day and there was Pat O'Brien doing an Irish Joy up Fifth Avenue in Kelly green fedora, green sports jacket and slacks . . . Gypsy singer Alya Uno at the Two Guitars got her first singing job in Europe at the age of 14 — when American GIs liberated her from a concentration camp where she starved most of the war . . . In the Flower Power H.Q. of the unwashedniks in the East Village, someone scrawled "Why not try shower power?"

Lionel Hampton's ready to announce construction of his new John V. Lindsay Culture Centre in Harlem . . . The now so-staid New Yorker turned down an ad for the sizzler "Therese and Isabelle" . . . This is one more movie not for the New York police nor license commissioner to pass on — just the sanitation commissioner . . . Star living in Europe many years was to jet here for her latest movie premiere but she's wanted by subpoena for a number of hotel bills, including one for more than $1,000.

Veep Hubert Humphrey wanted to grab a late snack at P. J. Clark's on Third Avenue, but his bodyguards decided it was too crowded and nixed the whim . . . The Baltimore Bullets basketball team jettied off on a Far East USO tour . . . Tony Bennett who once was turned down as production singer at the Copa headlines there at the largest fee ever paid a star in that glamorous cellar . . . The "Dark of the Sun" movie digs the dirt deeper yet.

Pearl Bailey's been named official 1968 hostess for the New York Summer Festival (dramatic-music-opera-dance-concerts-jazz at Lincoln Centre; Central Park jazz-folk-comedy-concerts; etc.) . . . Previous female commissioners of fun include Ethel Merman, Mary Martin, Carol Channing, Gertrude Berg, etc. . . . Oscar-winner Rod Steiger can't be a calorie-counter: at Orsini's he inhaled assorted pasta delicacies and a double transfusion of Zuppa Inglese — rum cake . . . Mrs. Barry Goldwater did count calories — her Orsini dinner the same night was one light salad.

ESSC plans to feature new speech curriculum

EAST STROUDSBURG — East Stroudsburg State College is proposing a new curriculum which will lead to the Bachelor of Science in Speech Correction.

The four-year program was recently approved by the Educational Policies Committee of the college and approval is pending from the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction.

Members of the Speech Department headed by Miss Katherine McFarland, prepared the original program and required applications.

Associate professor Robert L. Williams and Frank DiSimoni of the speech department have guided the development of the program application and will be the instructors of courses offered as part of the program. Expansion of staff and materials have also been programmed by Williams and DiSimoni.

When a student completes the proposed four-year curriculum, he will be certified to work in the public schools as a speech correctionist. With an additional year of study at the graduate level, the student could become a Speech Pathologist or Audiologist.

Williams and DiSimoni said that there is a pressing need for skilled professional speech correctionists on local, state and national levels and only through training programs, such as being initiated at ESSC, will needed speech services to society be fulfilled by the profession.

Courses are being offered by ESSC this summer and fall semester which will be applicable to the Speech Correction degree program. Courses being offered included Phonetics, Voice and Diction, Speech Problems, and Speech Pathology I.

at A&P

Ever pick up a "bargain" somewhere . . .

only to discover later it wasn't a bargain at all?

Well, you'll never make a mistake like that at A&P. Because . . .

1. We don't sell "bargain" goods . . . only quality merchandise at thrifty prices.
2. We never misrepresent. Never.
3. Everything you buy at A&P is guaranteed to please. Everything.

So, you can even shop carelessly at A&P if you like.

Of course you won't. But isn't it nice to know we take care for you. Because we care about you.

Is protection like this a good reason for shopping A&P?

It's one of many.

Ann Landers

Shoe marks on ceiling

Dear Ann Landers: Regarding the sixth grade kid who signed himself "Privacy Needed" and complained because the lady teacher kept busting into the boys' toilet looking for smokers: I can understand the boys' embarrassment and you were right when you said the investigating should be done by a male, but, as a lady teacher who has had to do the investigating because no male is around to do it, may I present my position?

Smoking is the least of the devilry going on in junior high school toilet rooms. The boys empty the ground-soap containers and throw the stuff all over the floor. They fill balloons with water and pour it into the ball trash receptacles. They drop rolls of tissue into the toilets and stop up the whole works. At a school where a friend of mine teaches, the boys actually tore the plumbing out of the walls.

Recently, we had the bathrooms painted and one of the boys told me I had to come with him and see the funniest thing in the world. He took me into the lavatory, and there on the ceiling were greasy black shoe prints. Several boys must have held one kid upside down to achieve this startling effect.

Since you strive for realism I thought you might like to hear from someone who is able to tell it like it is.

UNWILLING INTRUDER

Dear Unwilling: I appreciate your letter and am printing it at the risk of giving the little demons new ideas. If greasy shoe prints begin to appear on freshly painted ceilings all over the country, you and I must accept the blame.

I still say — a male should do the investigating and lady teachers should stay the heck out of boys' bathrooms.

Dear Ann Landers: I grew up with a girl who has always been a terrible liar. Catherine is exactly my age. In fact our birthdays fall the same week. Last week I heard her tell the ladies of our garden club that she is 42. She is 48 — born in 1920, just as I was.

Do you think I ought to give the ladies the facts? I hate to see her get away with it.

CROWDING FIFTY AND NOT ASHAMED

Dear Crowding: What is she getting away with? Do you think anyone gives a hangnail whether Catherine is 42 or 48 or 98? Age is only a number and most people could care less about someone else's number. Forget it.

Losses high in Viet fight

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines and warplanes hammered recently at an elite North Vietnamese force fighting with its back to a river 18 miles south of Da Nang, Leatherneck headquarters in the North.

It was the second straight day of furious fighting there and field reports said casualties numbered 130 enemy and 25 Marine dead. This put the toll for two days at 261 North Vietnamese and 51 Marines killed.

The battle is part of a mission named Operation Allen Brook launched May 4 aimed at crushing strong North Vietnamese forces threatening Da Nang and Hoi An.

The bidding:
South West North East
2 Pass 3 Pass

Opening lead—jack of clubs.
A reader sends this hand on which he bid and made seven spades. North—South were using the ace-showing convention over two-bids, and south wasted no time bidding seven after North had shown the ace of diamonds.
It is not easy to see how declarer made the grand slam, and if you'd like to test your prowess before going on, stop reading right here.
South ruffs the club lead in dummy, trumps a heart, and then ruffs a club, ruffs a heart, ruffs a club, and ruffs the third round of hearts.

He now draws three rounds of trumps. With nine tricks played, this becomes the position:
Declarer cashes his last trump, whereupon West finds himself squeezed.
If he discards the king of hearts, dummy's eight becomes a trick; if he discards a diamond, declarer's diamonds are all good. Either way, South makes a grand slam.
At first blush, it may seem overly-dramatic to trump the A-K-Q of clubs in dummy, but if South doesn't do this, he goes down.
The purpose of these plays is to exhaust one defender of his hearts and thus place the sole burden of guarding against dummy's fourth heart on the other defender.
Nothing can be lost by this effort, even though it may prove to be a waste of time if the hearts are divided 5-4.
If that is the case, South can always fall back on a favorable diamond division and is thus no worse off for having given himself an extra chance to make the contract. Two chances to make a hand are better than one.
